Mayor Mathews, of Boston, likes the Australian ballot under some circums ances, but when it was suggested by his oppopent that the system be used in the mayoralty caucus, he would not consent. The Australian fad places a premium on dishonest voting and the Mayor was svidently afraid he would be sold out,

Jerry Simpson should have repeated his tactics of two years ago when he poset as the "sockless statesman." It worked better than the assessination dodge. He had over 7,000 majority two years a-70, but now he can only figure out 1,400 and has a contest on his hands on the ground of illegal voting.

The Democratic bosses in New York are now engaged in a lively filt over the Senatorship. Boss Murphy wants the place himself, but Boss McLaughlin, who has an old score to settle with Murphy, has brought out a candidate of his own in the person of Alfred C. Chapin, who has just filed his resignation as a member of congress with the Secretary of State in order to enter the Senatorial race. It is strongly hinted that Mr. Cleveland would rather have thapin elected than to see Murphy succeed.

In his annual report to the Home Market Club, Secretary Clarke, in referring to the recent election, says there was a very light ballot for a Presidential year, and adds. "The Australian ballot, which was tried for the first time in many states, cost the Republicans more than the Democrats, for the Democratic leaders, knowing the necessity, had taken more pains than the Republican leaders to instruct their fol-lowers in its use. This was one of the objections to the law pointed out by THE WHILL Is was argued at the time that the Republicans having fewer illiterate voters would have less trouble with the law than the Democrats. Experience has faught, however, that it was not the illiterate voter who had the most difficulty with the law because they could be in-structed, or at least could call upon the balbut clerk for assistance. The fact is sustained by the evidence furnished in the late election.

come of his Festern friends thought that Hall would be awarded the credit for the election of Cleveland, but they wilk and that the strife is now on just as butter This year Albany County gave a largely decreased majority, and in an article headed "Traitors to Democracy" the Albany Arms, a theveland organ, thinly veiled language goes for the Hill Democrats as follows . "The Democracy of Albany demand that such treachery shall not go unpunished, that it shall no longer be both countenanced and actually rewarded. Year in and year out. Albany County has faithfully registered handome majorities for those now moumbents of state offices, and their predecessors It has furnished its share toward Democratic legislative majorities. We ask that the Capitol shall not be a cave of shelter whence men may emerge to carry on the war of guerrillas upon party loyalty." This is bloodthirsty language, and indi-cates that at present the Hill Democrats and the t leveland Democrats are not as loving brethren as they should be.

The election of Judge Altgeld bids fair to disrupt the Democratic party in Chica-go. Troublesome claims for precedence in the Mayoralty nomination next spring are being made by Carter H. Harrison and i Washington Hesing. The former claims to have swung Illinois into the Democrat re column, and therefore, wants local recognition. On the other hand, Hesing several month- igo, promised to Mr. eleveland that when the time came he would pull the German Lutheran vote out of his pocket and plump it solidly for the Democratic nominee. The editor now says he has done it and wants to be Mayor is a reward. As matters now stand, there is but little doubt Mr. Hesing will receive the Democratic nomination. It is said that such staiwart Democrats as "Mike" McDonald and John P. Hopkins are not ouly in his favor, but regard Harrison's plans with decision since he defeated Cregier's re-election in 1891. There is httle doubt, however, that Harrison will come before the people, and if he cannot secure the regular nomination be will run as an Independent. It is said that Irish Demo crais here are somewhat alarmed over the secondency of the Germans, who have s cured the Governorship, the Secretary of State's office, the County Tressurer's office and now want the Mayoraity. trish Democrats would support Mr. Harrison for Mayor. As Major Washburne has declared that he has had enough of t'my Hait life, Republicans are talking Director General Davis, of the Columbian Exposition, for Mayor, and he may re ceive their nomination. There will, in all probability, also be a Citizens' ticket in the field, with Lyman J. Gage's name at

Only a Temporary Reverse.

Just before leaving New York Secretary of the Treasury Foster was interviewed, and said :"I must confess that the result in Ohlo was a surprise to me; nevertheless, I had my misgivings as to the way the manufacturing districts in Ohio the manufacturing districts in Ohio would go. I talked to the working people at Fostoria and other points. Look at the falling off in manufacturing districts compared with the Harrison vote of 1888. Akron gave us 2,000 majority four years ago, but the other day Cleveland got 500 majority. Youngstown, which went Republican by several thousand in 1888, gave the Democrats some-thing like 900 majority. I can only ac-count for it on the ground that the workingmen came to the conclusion that the labor unions and not protection made the manufacturers pay them good wages. On really believe in it, and will indorse it in

At the battle of Stone River, when the right wing of the Union army had renaised and the center had been attacked with fury, and there was confusion and dismay along the line, an artillery officer rode up to the commanding, General, re-ported that all his horses were killed or disabled, that half his men were dead of wounded, and that he was being pressed hard by the onemy. He saled simply, "What shall I do?" and the apawer was, "Stand by your guns." The next day, when the tide turned and the Union troops rushed forward in a mighty sweep of vic-tory, the same of cer smiled as he said to his mer, "Stand by your guns.

At the very crisis in the battle of Get-tysburg, General Meade rode to one of the points held by a famous battery and look ing out upon the shock of battle, turned to the officer in charge and said: "You must hold this point at all hazards." The officer replicit: "My alumination is nearly exhausted, half of my men are disabled; what shall I do?" | "Stand by your guns." and gathering up he shot and unexploded shells that had been hurled at them by the Confederate batteries, the artillery men kept up the fire and when the rebel army retreated they were glad that they stood by their guns."

In the mystery and confusion at Chicks-mange, a division in command of an Illinois general was almost doubled on itself. The enemy seemed to pour in on either flank, to attack both front and rear, but the men said to one another, as they grimly touched elbowa: "Stand by your guns." Out of that confusion, out of that wilderness, came a blood-stained, disappointed, dispirited army, but a few weeks later the same columns were storming Missionary Ridge, were climbing Lookout Mountain and driving the army that thad triumphed over them at Chickamanga before them like sheep. The Republican party has been defeated. It has come out of one of the greatest political battles in our history, beaten and sore. Will it stand by its guns? If so, there will be a Missionary Ridge to its Chickeniauga, an Appointation to its Buil my in Regard to Arming the Men CHICAGO, Nov. 18. In the Pinkerton investigation to-day, a Pinkerton official testified referring to the Frick Coke Company trouble of several mooths ago. The witness said his men did not take arms to Pannaylvania, but were asmed at Pitaburg with Winchesters sent from Chicago. The Finkertons' orders were that they be armed with clubs only. Foley disobuyed the orders in causing the men to take Winchesters. But he did so, he said, to save life and prevent disorder.

Robert Bruce, of Cheege, mausger of a detective agency, declared the Pinkerton men were usually the soum of the earth and one of Finkerton's present superintendents is an ex-convict.

Men of other agencies are no better than the Pinkertons and he would not believe a detective under oath, and that applies to himself. He said in strikes detectives were often induced to manufacture evidence.
